

12th March, 1993

Bomb blasts in the Bombay Stock Exchange

- Serial blasts
- Hijacking of aircrafts
- Loss of innocent lives
- Attack on the Parliament
- Defiling places of worship
- Gun battles ...

India has mourned innumerable times

She has picked up her dead and wounded to move on

Only to be targeted again

But the point is not about impotency of the state

- ★ Point is, some patriotic Indian had taken a bribe to let the consignment of RDX through
- ★ Others had been “bought” & “purchased” on the way
- ★ Still others had used loopholes in the antediluvian legal system to protect and shelter him
- ★ Other Indians had, for political reasons, either looked the other way, or had actively encouraged his metamorphosis

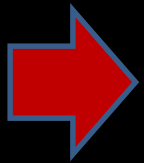

And herein lies the crux of the matter

The laws of the land are antiquated

The enforcers are corrupt

The law makers are politically motivated

And the people morally bankrupt

26th November, 2008

Its the small bribe that “we” pay

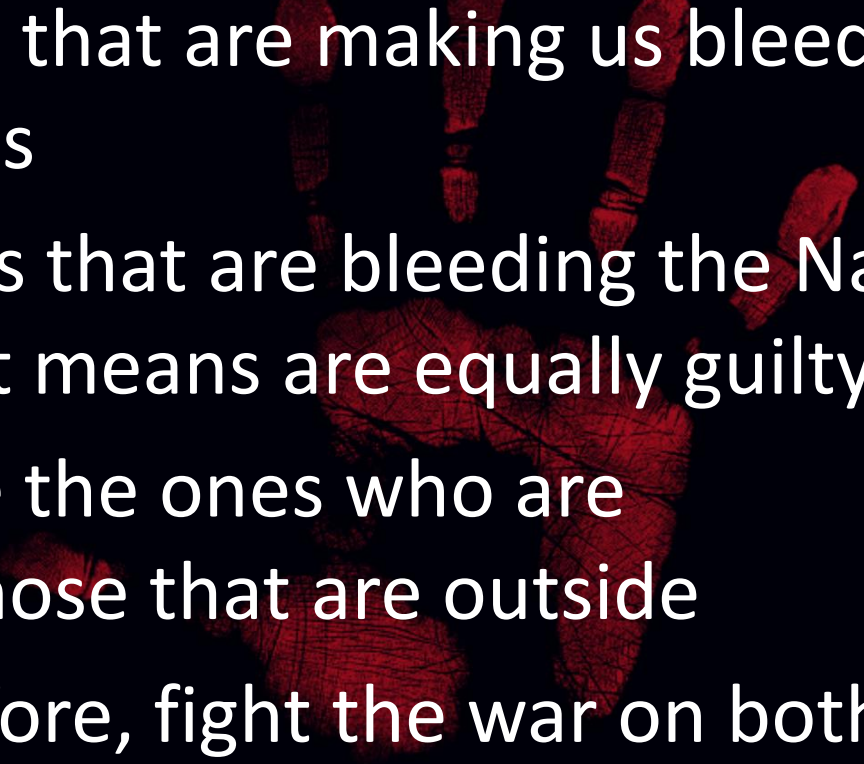

That lets them buy the guns that are trained on us

The Hawala route that we take

To evade a few Rupees ... is used by them to finance their operations around the world

Let us not forget

- That the bullets that are making us bleed are fired by enemies
 - But the enemies that are bleeding the Nation through corrupt means are equally guilty
 - The insiders are the ones who are emboldening those that are outside
 - We must therefore, fight the war on both fronts
-

Individually

We are up against a “system” that is naturally averse to change,

for maintenance of status quo ensures :

equitable distribution of bribe,

thriving of vote banks, continuity of personal fiefdoms,

reign of the corruption

Why me ? we all ask

As it is easier to shrug, pay the price
and move on,
than be the victim of “the system”

The power of “one”

Issues facing the Nation

Identify core issues

Analyse them threadbare

Find the correct Answers

Ensure implementation

Spread awareness

(to stop roll back)

The background features a dark, almost black, space. Two glowing, light blue lines with small, bright white dots at intervals curve across the frame. Scattered throughout are several stylized, multi-layered flowers in various colors: pink, purple, yellow, and blue. Additionally, there are several teardrop-shaped elements, some in a light green color, positioned around the central text.

We can. We will